

A choice of four different fare types for your SunExpress flight:

International flights:

At SunExpress, we are committed to offering you tailored services according to your needs. Our brand-new SunFares are carefully designed to give you even more options at great value. You can choose from up to four fare types, each of which includes different service features and ticket flexibility levels.

Starting October 23rd, 2024, these fares will be available for all bookings made for international travel from March 30th, 2025 onward.

Important: For flights departing before March 30th, 2025, our current SunFares remain available for booking and all services will be delivered as promised. If you have an existing booking for an international flight on and after this date and made your reservation before October 23rd, we will automatically update your fare to the new bundles. However, there's no need to worry! We will ensure that all the services you were promised, including onboard meals, remain unchanged and will be provided on your flight.
